Beautiful and small, so that you can see most of it. Easily accessible, so no need to worry about how to get there and back home. Historical, but not old-fashioned or outdated. And safe, in fact one of the safest places on Earth. That is the Czech Republic, the MICE destination you will certainly love.

Beautiful and small

The Czech Republic may be small, but there is a lot to see. It has a wealth of valuable heritage sites, twelve of them included in the UNESCO World Heritage List. Given its size, the Czech Republic actually has the largest number of UNESCO monuments per square kilometer in the world. And the Czech capital Prague is truly a gem that must be seen.

Easily accessible

Located in the heart of Europe, the Czech Republic is the ideal country for all kind of international meetings. Its main international airport, the Prague's Václav Havel Airport, serves some eleven million passengers annually, with 52 airlines offering direct flights to about 120 destinations all over the world. And the Czech railway network is one of the most dense in Europe, with train service running from most points of the continent.

Historical, yet modern

Only a few places on Earth can offer such an untouched wealth of culture and history alongside sophisticated global businesses, modern convention centres and congress halls, cutting edge technological infrastructure, style and comfort.

Safe

You don't have to worry. The Czech Republic is a safe destination, and safety is extremely important in today's world. Both large international event attendees and ordinary tourists arrive in the country every day to enjoy a pleasant, safe stay.

Combine all that with the fact that you will get very good value for your money, because the selection of quality venues, accommodation and programs comes at a reasonable and competitive prices, and what do you get? MICE destination you have to love!

Professional congress organizers and destination management companies have creative and innovative attitude. Over last twenty years, they have organised one successful event after another. Size, however is not the deciding factor, as even the smallest conference or seminar requires competent and precise organisation down to the last detail. Professional congress organizers offers high quality for competitive prices at the same time.

No matter where you are in the Czech Republic, you can be sure you are never far from home. The country has excellent road and rail connections with cities throughout Europe. Also no matter where you are, you will never be far from an international airport. Prague International Airport, the second largest airport in Central Europe is connected with 111 destinations around the world. Easy access is also guaranteed by the country's strategic location in the very heart of Europe.

Regarding the safety, I would like to mention that the Czech Republic is a safe destination.

LIBLICE CASTLE is one of the most compact monuments of the Bohemian high Baroque from the school of Italian architect Giovanni Battista Alliprandi, who elaborated a characteristic project of a new building upon an impulse of the contemporary owner of the dominion, Arnošt Josef Pachta of Rájov, who was later on promoted into countship. The last noble owner of the castle was the Valdštejn family. In 1945, the property passed into the ownership of the state, which transferred it under the administration of the Czech Academy of Sciences.

CUISINE

Typical Czech delicacies include roast goose or duck, served with dumplings (either bread or potato) and cabbage, svíčková – which is sirloin of beef with a special cream sauce served with bread dumpling, and venison.

These are best accompanied by the world-famous Czech beers (Czech breweries offer a wide selection, so no need to limit yourself to a choice between the delicious Pilsner Urquell and Budweiser beers) or by the surprisingly good Czech and Moravian wines. Production of wine has a long tradition in the Czech Republic and the wines are very popular among lovers of optimally matured wines.

In the numerous restaurants, cafés, pubs and bars in Prague and around the country, one can also enjoy other types of cuisine, be it Italian, French, Asian or speciality foods, such as vegetarian, organic or kosher. The choice of restaurants is wide and one can eat out very cheaply in a local eatery or dine in style in restaurants that have high profile chefs and have been repeatedly awarded prestigious Michelin stars, such as Alcron in the Raddisson hotel and La Degustation Boheme Bourgeoise, both in Prague.

DID YOU KNOW THAT ...

... the first trade fair in the world was held in 1754 in the Czech town of Veltrusy? It went under the name of Great Veltrusy Market of Products of Czech Kingdom and was attended by dozens of merchants from abroad and also by the Empress Marie Therese.

... Czech writer Karel Čapek introduced and made popular the frequently used international word robot? It first appeared in his play R.U.R. (Rossum's Universal Robots) in 1920. The word, actually invented by Karel's brother, painter and writer Josef Čapek, comes from the word „robota," that literally means serf labor and figuratively hard work or drudgery in Czech.

... the Bata Shoes company, one of the world's biggest multinational retailers, manufacturers and distributors of footwear and accessories, was founded in the town of Zlín, then in the Austro-Hungarian Empire, now in the Czech Republic? Tomáš Baťa established the company in 1894 with 800 Austrian gulden (about $320) inherited from his mother. His brother Antonín and sister Anna were partners in the firm.

VENUES – USUAL AND UNUSUAL

The Czech Republic offers all kinds of meeting facilities, from small intimate boutique style meeting rooms and hotels to large meeting venues and conference halls. The list of venues suitable for holding congresses and conferences includes several with room big enough for more than 5,000 people.

But the country also offers much more.

Have you ever attended a conference held in an old sewage treatment plant? Or a tram depot? What about an event organized in a tropical greenhouse?

And there are many more unique venues in the Czech Republic that will surprise you with their originality. A beautiful deconsecrated church, mansions, chateaus and castles, museums and even golf courses with conference facilities...all of them are equipped with modern technology and all of them are easily accessible. Come and see for yourselves: you name it, the country has it.

But it is not only a conference you can hold at a castle. Many of the country's castles offer perfect settings for a wedding. The castles of Hluboká nad Vltavou, Český Krumlov, Červená Lhota or Jindřichův Hradec belong to the most romantic of them.

Nature and Outdoor Activities

Although most foreign visitors to the Czech Republic limit their stay to the capital Prague, the countryside is equally attractive.

Towering cliff formations, vineyards, lakes or quiet meadows – all these sights can be found in the Czech Republic in astonishing numbers. And thanks to the small size of the country, travelers can pass through many differing types of landscape in just a few hours.

There are four National Parks in the Czech Republic. Two of them in the mountains regions along the national borders – Krkonoše and the Šumava Mountains, one in the sandstone towers area – Czech Switzerland, and one along the Dyje River near the border with Austria.

The country offers a network of cycling and hiking routes. The Czech network of marked tourist paths is arguably the best and the most dense one in the world and you can find the paths in the lowlands as well as in the highest mountains.

For those who prefer other activity to walking, there are indoor and outdoor golf courses, or they can go horse riding.

National House of Vinohrady 120 years among the best in Prague

The beautiful Neo-Renaissance National House of Vinohrady conveniently located right by the city centre was built in 1894. Since then, for almost 120 years, it has held thousands of finest events in Prague.

The biggest attraction of the National House are three outstanding luxurious halls and four syndicate rooms. All three halls together with two break out rooms are conveniently placed on the same floor. The halls are surrounding a grand foyer making it a beautiful place for a welcome drink, exhibition and social gatherings of all kinds.

With a good number of break out rooms together with beautiful large halls and a very good location, the National House is a perfect choice not only for gala dinners, balls or cultural events but also for exhibitions, seminars and especially for conferences of all kinds. Other benefits are handy parking and technical support, including high-speed internet, Wi-Fi, etc.

Thanks to our long experience we provide the highest quality services. Our commitment to quality makes us focus constantly on innovation, improvement, long-term relationships with customers and partners, as well as being part of the cultural life of Prague.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

The country and its companies operating on the MICE market have repeatedly proven that they are capable of handling large and important events. The country has around 235 hotels with facilities that can cater for large conferences – over twenty of them are five-star hotels and sixty-five are four-star hotels. About 2,780 hotels can handle smaller conferences, seminars and other events.

Apart from well-equipped congress and conference centres that include i.e. the Prague Congress Centre, Aldis Congress Centre in Hradec Králové or the Congress Centre in Pilsen, the Czech Republic also has a number of highly professional DMCs that offer excellent and extremely creative solutions.

With access to unique venues and attractive accompanying programs, DMCs can create experience that travelers would otherwise not have on their own.

The country and its capital Prague are competitively priced compared to other European countries and at the same time show devotion to excellence and superior services.
