Antonín Kratochvíl: David Bowie

Exhibition in the 400 ASA Gallery presents 12 photographs of David Bowie from 1977, which were created after photographer Antonín Kratochvíl managed to convince Bowie to escape with him from the cramped conditions of a studio photo shoot organized by assistants and managers. They spent 6 hours together in a quiet street where there were very few people and no one disturbed them. Iconic portraits thus stand out with a relaxed, informal atmosphere. Kratochvíl's work with light elevates the pictures, originally meant to be "promo photos" to portraits. 400 ASA Gallery, Prague, through Dec. 5, 2022. More at www.400asa.org/en

Emma Srncová 80

Josef Pleskot: Cities

The exhibition Josef Pleskot: Cities, hosted by the Kampa Museum from Nov. 5, 2022 to Feb. 12, 2023, will focus on the three specific urban settlements where the architect Josef Pleskot has completed his most outstanding projects – Prague, Ostrava-Vítkovice, and Litomyšl. The show will naturally present the individual buildings and projects, but it has also taken on the task of conveying Pleskot's approach to architecture, presenting the work of his studio in a broader, more general context and addressing the issue of the social role of architecture. Josef Pleskot is the main architect of the gradual transformation of Dolní Vítkovice into a new Ostrava cultural and social center. In Prague, Josef Pleskot is responsible for the reconstruction of the Deer Moat and the passage through the embankment of the Powder Bridge and the reconstruction of the Dominican monastery at the Church of St. Giles in the Old Town. Pleskot's most significant projects in Litomyšl include the reconstruction of the castle brewery and the regional museum. Museum Kampa, Nov. 5, 2022 – Feb. 12, 2023. More at www.museumkampa.cz/en

From recent times

The exhibition entitled From recent times will present the work of painter Jitka Štenclová, originally a textile artist, who has been fully devoted to painting and drawing since 1992. On her canvases, she captures everyday situations as well as extraordinary events, sensitively speaking about her experience of the world. Her artistic expression is based on geometric shapes, with color being a strong expressive component. Chvaly Castle, Horní Počernice, Nov. 3–27, 2022. Source: Chvaly Castle

Book about the Czech Trail published

The Czech Trail is a project of a group of enthusiasts led by Martin Úbl, who were the first to walk around the whole Czech Republic on marked walking routes. Subsequently, they created the website www.stezkaceskem.cz/en, which gives all the information necessary to start the hike: the exact length of individual sections, trail maps, tips on how to start, where to get refreshments, where to find the Trail Angels, volunteers who live near the trail route and offer their help to hikers for free. The CzechTourism agency is a partner to the project promoting it abroad. A book under the title Stežka Českem (Czech Trail) has been recently published by the JOTA publishing house.

Recipes from the U Jiskrů pub

The cookbook Recipes from the U Jiskrů pub is a collection of 95 favorite and tried-and-tested recipes by Martin Jiskra and his friends. The U Jiskrů pub is a certified Czech Specials restaurant, and it was Martin Jiskra who was the first ever to receive the honorary title of Czech Specials – Bearer of Czech Cuisine Traditions for promoting traditional Czech cuisine. Over twenty recipes from the book, selected by the Association of Cooks and Confectioners, will be marked with the Czech Specials logo. The launch of the book, which is published with the support of the Czech Specials project, will take place on Nov. 26, 2022 at the U Jiskrů pub in Kbelnice.
